The continued pattern of money talks and all others are left behind needs to stop. Industries need to clean up their sites and stop polluting and killing of wild life. We are not better than all others and there for they are expendable. ALL life is important and valuable.

Yes it will hit their profit margin initially, but the lives and environment saved for generations to come is invaluable. Profit and money does not come before life. Just because they have deep pockets to buy pay off lobbyists and law makers does not make it right.

We destroy enough land and wildlife in the name of profit, it is time and the right thing to do, to give all life a chance. I lived in NY where a uranium processing plant once operated and the result is that even though was 50 years ago, todays generation is paying the cost of it as for over 2 mile radius those living there at time thru todays generation have all had and died from various cancers. Class action suit has been going on for over 40 years now as many died and are dying. My family suffered loss of over 10 members since just 1995 alone.

This is not acceptable cost of doing business.

Maybe if those making the profits and polluting decisions were living near their facilities, major changes would take place. Why should they care as long as they don't have the pollution where they live and work. For those of you who feel cleanups are not needed then you move there and tell us then how safe it really is.
